

Werner Sonne

former German TV Correspondent

High-Level Strategic Interview

How to consolidate the fight against terrorism?

Wednesday, 30th November 2016, 09:30 – 10:15 h

Member on the board of the Deutsche Atlantische Gesellschaft (German Atlantic Association).

Contributor to the “Advisor” of the American Institute of Contemporary German Studies at John-Hopkins-University, Washington.

Commentator for daily newspaper “Kölner Stadt-Anzeiger”, Author for news magazine „CICERO“.

Senior correspondent for ARD German TV.

Retired June 30th 2012 as Berlin Bureau Chief for ARD Morning Show „Morgenmagazin“.

- 1964-1967: Training as newspaper editor and reporter for Kölner Stadt-Anzeiger
- 1967-68: United Press International (UPI), Bonn
- 1968-1981: Correspondent for WDR/ARD Radio in Bonn and Washington
- 1981: Special correspondent for ARD TV newscenter in Hamburg
- 1982-94: Deputy editor in chief for WDR TV in Cologne
- 1984-1986: Correspondent for ARD TV in Warsaw, Poland
- 1986-1992: Correspondent for ARD Bonn
- 1992-1997: Correspondent for ARD Washington
- 1997-1999: Anchor for political talk show on ARD documentary channel “Phoenix”
- 1999-2004: Correspondent for ARD Berlin
- 2004-2012: Berlin Bureau Chief for ARD Morning Show

Co-Author of the novels (with US author Mort Ehdin):

Es war einmal in Deutschland , Allahs Rache, Tödliche Ehre,

Author of novel: Wenn ich Dich vergesse, Jerusalem (2008)

Und der Zukunft zugewandt (2010)

Non fiction:

Staatsräson? Wie Deutschland für Israels Sicherheit haftet (2013)